

Employment Ministers discuss Maria João Rodrigues' report

Mrs Maria João Rodrigues, as rapporteur of the European Parliament for "economic priorities 2016", outlined the main points of his report at the 7th December meeting of the Council of Ministers for Employment and Social Affairs (EPSCO). The MEP stressed that "economic policies need to be coordinated in order to ensure domestic demand in the service of a strong and sustainable economic recovery." The rapporteur argued that "the investment should be the first priority, followed by face reforms for improving Europe's growth potential and to reduce social inequalities." In this same week, Maria João Rodrigues had the opportunity to present the document at the Committee of the Regions, which stressed the importance of its proposals for territorial cohesion in Europe.
